THE MEETING OF MINDS: ON THE NATURE OF CONTACT IN PSYCHOANALYSIS

A DAY-LONG CONFERENCE

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 1992

New York University

The Meeting of Minds: On The Nature Of Contact In Psychoanalysis

The idea of contact in psychoanalysis evokes the multidimensionality of clinical work. Contact occurs simultaneously on many levels and in diverse ways. Each meeting of patient and analyst is at once an intrapsychic, interpersonal, social, commercial and culturally defined event. These varied aspects of psychoanalytic engagement intersect in treatment, as patient and analyst search for genuine connection. We hope that this psychoanalytic meeting of minds will constitute a meeting ground for the exploration of the intricacies of the psychoanalytic contact.

THE PSYCHOANALYTIC SOCIETY also sponsors:

The Continuing Education Program, offering seminars and workshops to mental health professionals and to individuals with allied interests.

Lectures delivered by distinguished analysts. In recent years the Society has sponsored such speakers as Morris Eagle, Ph.D., Ethel Spector Person, M.D., Patrick Mahoney, Ph.D. and Henry Krystal, M.D.

The Postdoctoral Referral Service, a community service provided by the Psychoanalytic Society. All participating therapists hold Ph.D. degrees, are licensed psychologists and are graduates or advanced candidates of the New York University Postdoctoral Program in Psychotherapy and Psychoanalysis. The Postdoctoral Referral Service provides referrals to highly trained practitioners in their private offices at moderate fees, which are determined on a sliding scale.
